

Subscribe

Share

Past Issues

Trans

Speak Up for Healing

CENTER FOR YOUTH WELLNESS
health begins with hope

The Leading Public Health Issue of Our Time

Dear Friend,

As you may know, the Center for Youth Wellness recently organized Children Can Thrive: California's Response to Adverse Childhood Experiences, the leaders from across the state and provided us an opportunity to begin developing a comprehensive and integrated approach to combating Adverse Childhood Experiences and toxic stress.

SubscribeShare ▣Past IssuesTrans

I am pleased to share with you a newly released video from the summit highlighting this public health crisis and demonstrating how we can all work together towards a solution.

Watch the video here.

At CYW, we believe that health begins with hope, and we know that this public health crisis is both beatable and treatable. Please help us continue our important work by donating today.

We're just getting started but we can't do it alone. We need as many people as possible to speak up for healing. Please join us by giving to the Center for Youth Wellness today so we can continue to advocate for children's health and well-being in 2015.

Thank you for your continued support.

Be well,

Latanya Hilton

Vice President, Development and Strategic Partnerships

follow on Twitter | follow on Facebook | forward to a friend

Subscribe

Share ▾

Past Issues

Trans

unsubscribe from this list | update subscription preferences